

Ron is at the helm of Picmonic's mission to lead and inspire a new era of learning through innovative and effective educational solutions.

Ron has a unique background as both an entrepreneur and a former medical student. In 2011, Ron co-founded Picmonic Inc., and led the successful launch of the company's first product less than two years later.

Since then, Ron has been integral in strategic planning and execution, product development, and recruitment of Picmonic's talented team.

Ron holds a Bachelor of Science in Biochemistry from the University of San Diego.